Say a Prayer. Change the World.

Be a voice for change in the Anglican Communion—and in the world. Submit your prayer for publication* in Lifting Women's Voices: Ending Poverty through Prayer and Action, from Morehouse Publishing.

While worldwide attention is focused on discord and division, Anglican women and girls can unite to make our voices heard on issues of poverty and women's empowerment, express the power and depth of our faith, and reveal our connections across cultural and economic differences, by contributing to this new book of women's prayers.

Lifting Women's Voices will reveal how Anglican women worldwide are deeply connected by global issues, even across cultural and economic divides—and affirm that nurturing our inner lives of prayer offers us the courage to care and advocate not just for ourselves, but for our sisters throughout the Anglican Communion.

Speak your truth. Claim your voice. Send your prayer.

All royalties from the sale of Lifting Women's Voices will benefit the International Anglican Women's Network and Episcopal Relief and Development.
